

WasteWorks/HAZCO Commence Operation of Chilliwack's Bailey Landfill

September 1st, 2004 - HAZCO Environmental Services Ltd. is pleased to announce that WasteWorks, a wholly own subsidiary of HAZCO, started a 5 year contract to operate the Bailey municipal solid waste landfill facility for the City of Chilliwack, BC. The Bailey Sanitary Landfill services the City of Chilliwack and surrounding communities and accepts municipal solid waste for disposal and also separated gypsum wallboard, household batteries, wet cell batteries, fridges and freezers, and scrap metal and tin for recycling, and wood and yard waste for composting.

Over the next 5 years our Bailey project manager, Kyle Popeniuk, and our Bailey landfill manager, Sabrina Wilson, will be working closely with the City of Chilliwack and the community to ensure safe, responsible and efficient operation of this facility. We are pleased to be a part of the rapidly growing Chilliwack community for years to come.

WasteWorks operates industrial and municipal landfills across Western Canada and is the largest provider of industrial landfills and remediation facilities in the region. Through HAZCO's integrated services, WasteWorks is able to offer comprehensive site services including landfill design, construction and operation services.
